The Topic for next Week

Please look out for our decorated window created in time for next week's topic "Remembrance Day"

Next Steps

To support your child's learning at home perhaps take your child to a Remembrance Parade or watch one on the Television. Can you count how many poppies you see whilst you're out and about this weekend?

This Week

This week our topic was fireworks and fire safety

We have discussed how to keep ourselves safe at busy events and the children listened to each other's ideas on how they could stay safe when they are watching fireworks or bonfires. This led to some enthusiastic imaginative play, where the children acted out being fire fighters. We used 'Alexa.' to listen to the sirens and watched Fireman at work on You Tube.

Our children have used forks, toothbrushes and their fingers to create pictures of fireworks. The children discussed the different types of marks the tools made. It was lovely to hear the children making firework sounds as they created their pictures. "Whizz", "crackle", "bang" and "pop" were amongst the favourites.

In the sand, we drew patterns, wiggly lines, spirals and crosses, the children enjoyed exploring the new way we could extend our mark making skills.

Have a lovely weekend!
